

ANNUAL REPORT 2017-2018

At The Children’s Center, we witness transformation every day. We witness a child, previously isolated and alone, reaching out for adults as she learns to regain trust. We witness parents using effective techniques to calm their child through a violent tantrum. We witness friendships made, milestones achieved, and goals accomplished.

All the transformations here, however tiny, represent significant incremental change in the life of a child. Each smile, high five, and encouraging hug is evidence of the incredible difference our clinicians and therapeutic staff make for families in Utah. As a supporter of The Children’s Center you are a part of this transformation, and you make possible all of the transformations we get to witness.

We are so grateful to you, our incredible donors and wonderful community members, who continue to support us in a myriad of different ways. Whether through financial gifts, as volunteers, with in-kind donations, or through partnerships, the power of your support enables us to accomplish incredible things. Because of you, a family is not burdened by the cost of therapy for their child. There is never a debate between getting a child crucial therapy or putting food on the table.

This year has also seen transformations within The Children’s Center. Be assured that our critical work for children continues uninterrupted, and we continue to be strong as we look to our future. We continue to be THE place in Utah for children and families who need our specialized help. We are here for children who are struggling with behavior challenges. We are here for children who have experienced trauma. We are here for children who are removed from their child care or preschool. We are here for all the children and families who need us.

We continue our pledge, held for over 56 years, to never turn a family away from receiving services due to inability to pay for treatment. There is simply no way we could accomplish this without the support of you and our community. We are so grateful for you. Each of you is helping our youngest and most vulnerable children in Utah heal and have hope for the future.

Thank you!

DATA-INFORMED APPROACH TO PROMOTING PRESCHOOL SUCCESS

Thanks to a grant from The Whitney Foundation, The Children's Center began using a nationally standardized preschool evaluation tool called the Devereux Early Childhood Assessment (DECA) in our Therapeutic Preschool Program last year. This evaluation is completed by a caregiver and the child's Therapeutic Preschool Specialist when they begin our preschool, and every 90 days until the child discharges. The caregiver and Preschool Specialist responses provide valuable information on how the child compares to other children in four specific areas: Initiative; Self-Regulation; Attachment/Relationships; and Behavioral Concerns.

The DECA is transformational for each child's treatment in the Therapeutic Preschool Program. The DECA scores are tallied to determine a child's strengths and identify targeted interventions to help foster growth in areas of need. In addition, we can compare standardized data across children within one classroom, helping to explain why some groups appear harder to manage. For example, the scores might reveal that 7 out of 9 children within one group have significant challenges establishing positive and healthy relationships with adults and/or peers. This information provides supervisors a new lens to help explain why so many of the children in one group might be struggling in similar ways, making it harder to promote success. We are now able to vary behaviors in the classrooms, which has given us the ability to engage all children in meaningful ways.

The DECA data is also invaluable to determine a child's readiness to discharge from the Therapeutic Preschool Program. We track children's progress on the DECA and note when children are approaching typical range scores. This helps family therapists identify children that are ready for traditional group settings such as preschool, Head Start, or child care centers. We are looking forward to exploring ways to expand our use of the DECA beyond just children in our Therapeutic Preschool Program to all of the children receiving therapy at our Center.

ADDRESSING NEEDS IN THE COMMUNITY

The Early Childhood Consultation and Training Team is The Children's Center's community outreach and prevention division. Through extensive involvement with child care and other early childhood programs, the staff provides much-needed resources, training and support for classroom teachers and administrators. Upon the request of program administrators, teachers, parents or clinicians, our skilled team of consultants offers child-focused observations and notes behaviors of concern with a specific child. Due to the growing need for these services, we have seen tremendous growth in this department. The infant-toddler specialists on the Early Childhood Consultation Team offer on-going support in specific classrooms throughout the state using nationally-recognized behavioral rating scales as a framework for best practice.
